Airliner Pilot Fatally Stricken; Co-Pilot Lands Plane

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—A pilot of a Trans World Airlines Super-Constellation suffered a fatal heart attack while operating the huge aircraft with 29 passengers aboard Saturday night.

His co-pilot took over control of the plane from the dying pilot, and made an emergency landing.

The plane was en route from Chicago to Denver, Colo., when Capt. Horton Hale, 53, New Hyde Park, N. Y., was stricken.

Both men were in the pilot's cabin at dual controls.

The co-pilot, Capt. L. A. Girard, made a safe landing after Hale's attack. Another TWA pilot, Capt. Tom Evans, who was riding as a passenger on the flight, went to the cockpit to help remove Hale from his seat.

Geodetic Survey To Erect Tower on Court House Lawn

The Geodetic Survey party now establishing precise survey stations in this area will erect a 100-foot tower on the southeast corner of the courtyard Tuesday, Commander William N. Martin, in charge of the party, stated today.

This tower, which will be erected by mid-afternoon, will be used in making line operations and will be up for two or three days. From atop the tower the personnel will determine the exact latitude and longitude of the points.

This is the first time such work has been done in southern Illinois since 1930. Commander Martin explained. The area being worked extends from Cave-in-Rock to New Haven on the east and from New Burnside to Logan on the west.

Four Plead Guilty Following Fracas At Housing Project

A ruckus Saturday evening at the Dorrisville Housing project resulted in pleas of guilty to charges by four persons in the court of Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods.

Theda Clift was fined on charges of disturbing the peace, disorderly conduct and assault with a deadly weapon, a flashlight, upon the person of Homer Evans.

Pleading guilty to charges of interfering with officers were Homer Evans, Jim Turner and a minor girl, all residents of the housing project.

Arresting officers were Pat Atkinson and Floyd Kimbro.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said that the fracas started after Helen Evans signed a complaint charging Theda Clift with disturbing the peace, charging Mrs. Clift played her television set too loud. He also said a warrant is on file charging Helen Evans with striking a minor.

He also said that peace disturbance charges were filed against Walter and Delma Erwin, upon complaint of neighbors.

Cancer Research Scientist Kills Himself

Was Scheduled
To Appear Before
House Committee

PACIFIC GROVE, Calif. (AP)—William K. Sherwood, a cancer research scientist, killed himself early Sunday rather than appear before a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

A committee spokesman said he may have taken with him in death information "that would have been significant to the security of this country."

He said Sherwood's testimony had been considered so "very valuable" that the committee planned to offer him immunity to prosecution in return for it.

Scientific colleagues of Sherwood, 41, said he was a "brilliant" scientist. On Friday he completed a paper describing work through which he believed he may have established a link between cancer, schizophrenia and some kinds of heart disease.

Sherwood was found dying at the Hopkins Marine Laboratory by his wife, Barbara. He had taken poison. He had left a letter saying:

"My life and my livelihood are now threatened by the House committee."

"I will be in two days assassinated by publicity . . . I would love to spend the next few years in laboratories, and I would hate to spend them in jail."

A friend, Oakland attorney Bertram Edises, made public a statement which he said Sherwood had intended to read to the committee.

"The committee's trail is strewn with blasted lives and the wreck of youthful careers," the statement said. It said he resented "the intrusion of the House committee because it causes me to lose precious time from work which is of importance to humanity."

Edises said Sherwood had become very upset when he learned two days ago that the committee intended to televise its hearings. He wrote a colleague that he had "a fierce resentment of being televised."

The House committee opens an investigation in San Francisco Tuesday into the "intellectual infiltration" of communism among professional persons in the San Francisco Bay area.

A committee spokesman in Washington said Sherwood's suicide was "indeed, a tragedy."

Gov. Stratton Charges Disservice By Critics of His School Aid Program

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton whose school aid program is the target of a Democratic filibuster in the Senate, said Sunday persons who try to make "political benefit from our schools do disservice to all education."

Stratton spoke at dedication ceremonies for new men's residence halls at Southern Illinois University here.

Stratton said critics of his school aid program fail to take into account the money being spent for higher education and other aspects of education.

He said his administration has steadily increased aid to education at all levels since he took office in 1953.

The governor said he has raised the school aid formula from $160 per pupil to $200 per pupil since taking office, that his 227-million-dollar school aid program is 33 million dollars greater than it was for the last two years, and that he also has provided more money for state colleges and universities.

He also pointed to his support of a plan for a 10 million dollar state revolving fund from which poorer school districts can borrow for classroom construction.

The governor said all groups should pull together to help education—"men in government, SIU backers, U. of I. supporters, parent-teacher groups, common school and special education groups."

"When one segment of education seeks extra benefit at the expense of some other segment of the state's educational program, there is a time then for more careful scrutiny of need so that state funds may be best distributed for the benefit of all," he said.

Auditors Begin Probe of Cook County Offices

CHICAGO (AP)—A special corps of auditor today began a wide-spread investigation of Cook County offices in an effort to pinpoint blame in an alleged multi-million-dollar fraud.

State's Atty. Benjamin S. Adamowski said Sunday the auditors, recruited specifically for the probe, will spend about three months going through the records.

The state's attorney, a former Democrat turned Republican, said his auditors will get "together a report on how extensive the frauds in the county treasurer's office have been."

The next step, he said, will be to question employees of various county offices to trace the alleged five-million-dollar shortage of county funds to the personal level. All county offices but Adamowski's are held by Democrats.

He said evidence gained in the investigation will be placed before a grand jury. Among the offices which will be involved in the study, Adamowski said, were the county treasurer, state's attorney, clerk, recorder and auditor. The probe will go back to 1947 at least, he said.

A total of about $600,000 in the misapplication of funds came from alleged overpayments by the treasurer's office to legal and court reporting firms. The rest was lost through failure to collect full penalties from property owners who owed back taxes, Adamowski said.

20 Persons are Killed in St. Louis Area

6,000 Driven From Homes, But
Many Return

By United Press
The eastern half of the nation sweltered in the year's first major heat wave today in the wake of killer storms that caused flood disasters at St. Louis, Mo., and other points in the Midwest.

At least 20 persons were killed in week-end storms that dumped record rains on the St. Louis area. Flash floods drove some 6,000 persons from their homes in the area, but many of them began returning Sunday as the raging waters receded.

Swimming accidents also claimed a heavy toll of lives as millions of persons thronged to parks and beaches Sunday in an effort to escape the 90-degree plus temperatures.

Eleven persons drowned in New England and one person died in a boating accident. Six persons drowned in Michigan, four each in Wisconsin and Indiana and two each in Illinois and New Jersey.

At Scranton, Pa., three golfers were killed Sunday and three others were injured when a bolt of lightning struck a tree where they had taken shelter during a rainstorm. A physician at the Scranton Country Club said all three men died instantly.

Seven in Family Killed

Red Cross workers and special crews moved into the St. Louis area to help in the mammoth clean-up operation. Nineteen persons died in the St. Louis area floods, and one man was killed when his car rammied into a flooded gully in Nebraska.

The worst single flood accident killed seven members of one family Saturday when their car was swept away by a wall of water near Beaufort, Mo.

A total of 8.72 inches of rain swamped St. Louis in little more than 13 hours during a record downpour Friday night and Saturday. Belleville, Ill., southeast of St. Louis, was flooded with a 13.75-inch rainfall. Amounts up to 10 inches and more were common throughout the area.

At least two levees crumbled in the St. Louis and southern Illinois areas Sunday from the pressure of the runoff. A number of families were evacuated from the Wedgewood district of East St. Louis, Ill., when a levee broke along a drainage ditch.

Near Vandalia, Ill., an estimated 10,000 additional acres of rich farmland were inundated when a levee gave way to the Kaskaskia river. About 40,000 acres of low-lying floodland were under water, ruining crops.

No Relief From Heat

The Mississippi River climbed more than five feet as a result of the heavy rains, but remained within its banks.

U. S. 66 was blocked by floodwaters southwest of St. Louis Saturday and much of Sunday, forcing motorists to bypass the heavily traveled route. Other flooded highways included U. S. 50 in the vicinity of East St. Louis and U. S. 40 near Troy, Ill.

There was no immediate overall estimate of the storm damage, but police estimated damage to Belleville alone would reach one million dollars.

Life Has Only Two Roads, Billy Graham Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Sunday night that life has only two roads and they lead to heaven or hell.

"The narrow road ends in eternal life," Graham said, "and the broad road leads to hell and destruction. There is no third road. It is either one or the other."

The North Carolina preacher, basing his sermon on Job 14, said that even "The American Indian talked about his happy hunting ground."

The whole world is out of balance, Graham said, and "experience teaches us that there must be something after life."

He quoted Robert Ingersoll as saying "Why do we fear that which we do not know?"

"Supposing there is no heaven and no hell. I would still follow Jesus Christ . . . but what a terrible thing to find there is a hell and that you've missed heaven . . . Christ taught there was life after death," he said.

The 38-year-old preacher greeted former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey, who was sitting in the second row of Madison Square Garden.

"Jack, we're glad to have you here," the evangelist said.

Dempsey rose and took a bow. The audience applauded.

The former boxer listened attentively during the sermon and later told reporters, "I think Billy is doing a terrific job for everybody. I've wanted to see him ever since he's been here."

10-Year-Old Boy Shoots Up Community With Two Automatics

MUSE, Pa. (AP)—A 10-year-old boy shot up this Pennsylvania mining community with a pair of Colt automatic pistols Sunday night, firing more than 20 rounds at anything or anyone that came in his sights.

But his aim was poor — he wounded no one.

The youngster, Joseph Coleman of nearby Canonsburg, Pa., was subdued after an hour when his ammunition ran out.

He left a bullet-pocked trail that traced from his uncle's home, along the main street and on thru this sleepy community about 20 miles southwest of Pittsburgh.

State police took him to Washington, Pa. Hospital for observation and later remanded him to the Washington County Juvenile Detention Home. Officials there said he promptly fell asleep.

Commissioner McCabe to Try Petty Offenses

U. S. Commissioner Harry L. McCabe of Harrisburg has been given jurisdiction to try and sentence persons committing petty federal offenses any place within the Eastern District of Illinois.

The order giving McCabe and U. S. Commissioner Elmer Jenkins of Benton this jurisdiction was written by William G. Juergens, U. S. judge for the Eastern District of Illinois.

The authority is specifically directed to Migratory Bird Treaty Act violations; Hunting Stamp Tax violations; and other petty offenses.

This is a new procedure for both the U. S. Attorney's office and for the U. S. Commissioners and the two commissioners chiefly will handle violations on the Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge. C. M. Raemer, U. S. Attorney, and Jack C. Morris, assistant U. S. Attorney, point out that between May through August, 1955, there were 195 violations on the Crab Orchard Refuge, and for the same period in 1956 there were 368 violations. For the ten months ending May 1, 1957, there were 190 migratory bird act violations in the southern part of the district.

'Thugocracy'

Gangster intimidation of witnesses in criminal trials is nothing new. But the latest example of it involving the notorious Johnny Dio emphasizes all too pointedly the growing power of the underworld in present-day America.

The federal government has had to put off the trial of Dio and three henchmen as conspirators in the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. Two witnesses —gangsters already convicted in the same case — have refused to testify against Dio after having been threatened.

Government prosecutors may or may not be able to go after Dio later. If they are not, it will represent another shocking triumph for criminal violence — and the menace of it.

That there is far too much of this kind of supergovernment in the United States is abundantly evident. The whole point of the Senate's rackets inquiry is to expose and measure the extent of it.
Riesel and others offer many proofs that gangsters dominate powerful unions and businesses,
exact stiff tribute from the society they infest.

Since they perform no useful function and serve no legitimate purpose, these underworld characters have no honest bargaining power in either unions or businesses. Consequently the use or threat of force is their only weapon.

Americans are right up against the question of how long they are going to allow their society to be ruled in this fashion. If strong countermeasures are not taken soon, we may be compelled to acknowledge that a new kind of government has been born — thugocra-cy.

One of the saddest aspects of this situation is that subservience to violence becomes corrosive of the national character at all levels.
It is a kind of blackmail practiced in large and small ways, not only by criminal elements young and old but by countless individuals seeking to enforce their will upon others.

A schoolboy takes a punch at a girl pupil and she begs her mother not to report him because "the next time he'll do something worse." People keep silent about vandalism for fear speaking out will bring more. Such threats, magnified hugely by the professional users of force, constitute the law of the underworld jungle.
Americans can hardly want that law to prevail.

The Department of Agriculture says 11.5 million children are getting their lunch at half price under the national school lunch program.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Old Guard GOP Demands
Help Harass President Into Recent Attack: Budget And
Girard Hassles Strained Ike's
Touchy Digestive System;
Pressing Problems Also Preceded '56 Ileitis Bout.

WASHINGTON—Old guard Republicans are going to resent it,
but modern Republicans are saying that the future of the President's health is largely up to the old guarders.

If he hadn't been so harassed
by budget cuts, if he hadn't had to jump to Capitol Hill for a box
luncheon with GOP congressmen,
if he hadn't had to fly back from Florida to speak to the Republican National committee, they say,
the recent stomach seizure would not have happened.

This is exaggerated, but probably there is some truth to it. The work of the President is crushing enough. If on top of this he has to whip his own political party into line, the burden can be unbearable.

GOP Chairman Meade ALCORN
had just persuaded the President to undertake a series of back-slapping conferences with rank-and-file members of the GOP. The Capitol Hill box luncheon was the start. A series of White House breakfasts, 40 congressmen at a time, was to follow.

Ike wasn't enthusiastic, doesn't like back-slapping, though he does it well. However, he will be the last man to mourn if this is now curtailed. Modern Republicans say it's now up to old guard Republicans to co-operate without putting any extra burden on Ike if he works out that way, this week's stomach upset will be a blessing in disguise.

JUNE 1956 — JUNE 1957
Whether you call it ileitis or nausea or a nervous colon, the fact is that President Eisenhower has always suffered from stomach trouble when under heavy strain,
and his staff will have to govern
his schedule accordingly.

He can handle the routine chores of office without any trouble. But events and problems have a tendency to pile up.

Here is the interesting record
of what has happened to the President when events and problems
piled up in the past:
JUNE 19, 1956 — Just before
last year's ileitis attack the following events had happened:
House leaders were called in and urged to reinstate a $1,000,000,000
cut in foreign aid. . . . The President had refused to support his supporter, Sen. Alex Wiley, in the battle by Wisconsin McCarthyites to defeat him. . . . A newsman asked why he supported Secretary
McKay in Oregon but not Wiley.
The color rose on the back of Ike's neck. . . . Ex-Senator Harry Cain got into a shouting match with the White House staff in front of Ike regarding unfairness toward alleged subversives. . . . All these seemed to snowball into 48 disagreeable hours just before the President was stricken.

JUNE 10, 1957—Just before the recent stomach upset, the President again faced the battle of the budget plus reversal regarding Army Specialist 3/c William Girard and British-Chinese trade. He had definitely agreed that Girard should be tried in an American military court when John Foster Dulles demanded — and won — a reversal. He had also given his indirect blessing to British trade with Red China by stating June 5:
"You are going to have just authorized trade or you are going to have clandestine trade."

In contrast, his State Department had said on May 30: "The United States is most disappointed by this action."

Last week he also performed
the distasteful ceremony of welcoming the ambassador of the Dominican Republic, Manuel De
Moya, bosom pal of Dictator Trujillo.

"Your return to Washington for a second assignment will be particularly gratifying," said the President dutifully.

"I would like to take this opportunity," he added, "to convey through you my personal greetings to his excellency the president of the Dominican Republic."

All this at a time when a congressional committee and the State Department were investigating the Dominican murder of an American pilot and a Columbia University professor who once taught under Eisenhower.

Sandwiched in was a 30-minute trip to Capitol Hill for a box luncheon with GOP congressmen; a flight to Florida to review the Navy; a flight back to Washington to address the GOP National committee; the dedication of a new building at American University.

Such are the burdens of the Presidency. No wonder the President began to feel ill.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE
Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, worried over his wife's health, is leaving most of the probe of Secretary Humphrey's fiscal policies to Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma.

Kerr is a good fiscal investigator.
Byrd can't be too happy also about the penetrating series on the Byrd machine written by Eddie Folliard of the Washington Post.

Ex-Senator George Bender,
the Ohio Republican, will be an asset to the Interior Department.
It needs more of the human touch.
Bender has it. . . . Ike's chiefs of the antitrust division can't seem to stay out of conflicts. Victor Hansen, in charge of antitrust,
gave a speech at the home of Mrs.
Sam Pryor for the Republican
Women's Club of Greenwich, Conn. Yet Hansen must sit in judgment on an important antitrust case involving Mrs. Pryor's husband, who is the chief Washington vice president and lobbyist
for Pan American Airways. . . .
Judge Stanley Barnes, who preceded Hansen as head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, speculated in the stock of Warren Petroleum when it came before him on an antitrust matter.
He has now been promoted to the U. S. Court of Appeals. . . . Diminutive Mrs. Leela Dyal, beautiful wife of the counselor of the Indian embassy, used to be the tennis champion of India. . . .
Some senators complain privately that Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson has made a "mere formality" of Senate debates. He works out legislative deals in advance and lines up the votes behind the scenes, they say, until the outcome is cut and dried.
There's no need for the formal debates which accomplish nothing,
they say, except impress the public.

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

Hear O Heavens, and give ear
O Earth, for the Lord hath spoken. Isaiah 1:2.

There are sermons in stones and books in running brooks, but the message of the Rocks, of the starry heavens is by no means exhausted. We are just beginning to understand these messages.

The first protective tariff act
in the United States was passed in 1789.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

An elderly mother wandered up and down the long corridors of Chicago's Midway Airport recently. She was looking for a son who was pausing a few minutes between flights. She had little information but she longed to see her busy son—too busy to give his mother the attention for which she longed.

At the moment of despair when it seemed impossible to find the young man in the great mass of traveling humanity, she spoke to a sympathetic girl at an information desk. Somehow, a few loud-speakers called out their words of inquiry. The mother and son were brought together for all available minutes.

When we are lost, we can call on God and in His mysterious way, He gives us joy and peace and comfort. Let us seek Him instead of wandering through the lonely corridors of life.

About 50 million American workers get paid vacations.

Card of Thanks

BRADLEY — Words cannot express our gratitude and appreciation for the many kind deeds rendered during the illness and death of our father and brother Dick Bradley. We thank the neighbors for the nice food, floral offerings, the pallbearers, flower girls, the choir for their song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus"; Brother Summers for his comforting message, and Brother Freidley for the help he gave to lessen our sorrow; Sister Hooten for her assistance with the arrangements; to Mrs. Henry Huston for her great help with her car to assist in every way possible, and to Norma Gower and Norma Pritchett for their beautiful songs of "Only a Rose Will Do," and "No Tears in Heaven." They sang so beautifully, and also the kind gestures of the Gibbons funeral home.

We wish again to thank each and every one, and may God bless you all. Again, we say "Thank You!"

There Was No Place to Put the Cornerstone

CAMDEN, N. J. — (UP) — The cornerstone laying ceremony to mark the start of the Rutgers University extension library building was delayed recently because there was no place to lay the stone.

Construction Supt. Clarence Baker pulled back the piece of board covering the hole where the marker was to be placed only to find that someone had filled it with brick and mortar.

A crew quickly cleared the hole, and the ceremony proceeded.

18-Year-Old McDaniel and Old Pro Hoyt Wilhelm Pitch Cardinals to Double Win

By United Press
An old pro and a kid just three weeks out of high school are panning out to be a bullpen bonanza for the pennant-minded St. Louis Cardinals.

The old pro is 33-year-old Hoyt Wilhelm and the youngster fresh out of the classroom is 18-year-old bonus beauty Von McDaniel, who between them, pitched the Cardinals within 1 1/2 games of the National League lead by beating Brooklyn twice Sunday, 7-6 and 8-4.

McDaniel, appearing in only his second major league game, checked the Dodgers on one hit and struck out five batters in four innings to gain his first major league victory in the opener. Wilhelm hurled four hitless innings in the nightcap to save Willard Schmidt's triumph and give the Cards their 11th victory in the last 13 games.

The Cards overcame a 6-1 deficit to win the opener on Ken Boyer's seventh-inning homer after Roy Campanella and Stan Musial each had hit three-run homers. St. Louis shelled Johnny Podres from the mound in the nightcap with a four-run outburst in the sixth.

Braves Split Twin Bill

League-leading Milwaukee split a double-header with Philadelphia, winning the opener, 3-2, but dropping the nightcap, 1-0, despite Lew Burdette's one-hit pitching. The Giants edged the Redlegs, 4-3, and the Cubs defeated the Pirates, 4-1, with the nightcap being called at 4-4 in the seventh inning because of Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew.

The Chicago White Sox stretched their American League lead to 3 1/2 games by beating Washington twice, 4-2 and 8-6; the Yankees defeated the Athletics, 8-6, in 10 innings; Cleveland swept two games from Baltimore, 4-3 and 5-1, and Detroit beat Boston, 2-1, in 10 innings.

Frank Torre's eighth-inning double drove in the winning run for the Braves in the opener. Juan Pizarro went the route for Milwaukee even though he was nicked for homers by Willie Jones and Granny Hamner. Southpaw Curt Simmons was the winner in the finale.

Don Mueller's pinch three-run homer in the eighth off Tom Akker helped Marv Grissom of the Giants to victory in a relief role against the Redlegs, who frittered away a 3-0 lead.

Jim Bolger, Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn each hit homers in the Cubs' triumph over the Pirates and Banks also homered in the second game which was not completed. Don Kaiser was the

Wilson Wins Seventh

Jim Rivera and Minnie Minoos each hit two-run homers for the White Sox to help Jim Wilson notch his seventh triumph in the first game. Relief pitcher Dixie Howell then hit two homers in the nightcap as the White Sox battled back from a 6-0 deficit, to win with a four-run rally in the eighth. Roy Sievers also homered.

Yankee reliever Bob Grim was credited with his seventh victory when the Bronx Bombers rallied for three runs in the 10th. Homers by Gil McDougald and Yogi Berra gave the Yanks an early lead, but Billy Martin, playing his first game for the A's, put them ahead, 4-3, in the eighth. The Yanks went ahead again in the ninth and Hal Smith sent the game into extra innings with a homer in the bottom of the ninth.

VFW Splits Week End Tilts

The VFW baseball team lost its third game of the season Saturday, 6-3, to the Menard Pen team but bounced back Sunday afternoon to slaughter the Albion Merchants, 15-0, for its ninth win.

The Penitentiary game saw the inmates jump off to a 4-0 lead when they scored 2 runs in the first and 4 runs in the second. Don Stout then put the stopper on them as he allowed only 2 hits and 2 runs the rest of the game. Carl Griffiths started the local scoring in the third when he smashed a fast ball high over the right center field wall. Don Wallace scored the second run when he scored on Merle Dailey's long sacrifice fly. The locals final run was scored when Griffiths singled, Dailey walked and Dallas smashed a long double (ground rule) over the left fielder's head. Don Stout pitched a fine 6 hitter as did John Henry Louis for the Pen team.

Bill McNew pitched his finest game of the season as he hurled seven scoreless innings and allowed only 3 hits. Don Wallace pitched the final two innings and allowed one hit and no runs.

The VFW iced the game in the very first inning when Bob Dallas hit a long home run with Logsdon and Griffiths on the sacks. Tonazzi drove in the fourth run with a two base blow in the second inning. Tonazzi drove in 2 more runs in the 6th with another smash hit. Trailing 8-0, Albion put in another pitcher and the locals clubbed him for 7 runs before they could get another pitcher warmed up.

Hitting honors for the week end went to Bob Dallas who had 4 hits in 8 trips including a homer. Griffiths had 3 for 10 including a homer. Logsdon got 3 hits in 9 trips. Wallace had 2 for 9. Ronnosky, McNew and Miller competed only in the Albion game and had one hit.

Billy Martin Goes to A's in 8-Player Deal

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Billy Martin, second baseman traded by the New York Yankees to the Kansas City Athletics, said he bore no grudges from the trade and backed up his words with a single and a homer.

Martin and outfielder Harry Simpson switched uniforms in Sunday's Yankees-Athletics game due to an eight-player deal the clubs made just before the deadline Saturday night.

"Sure, I hated to leave the Yankees," Martin said, "but I'll get to play regularly for the A's. I guess it was a good deal for both clubs."

Simpson, the slugging left-handed outfielder who drove in 105 runs for the A's last season, also played against his former mates, being used as a pinch hitter in the fifth and popping out. However, he came through with a single for the Yanks in the 10th and scored in a three-run outburst that gave the Yankees an 8-6 win.

Simpson had little comment to make on the trade other than to say he thought it was a "good deal" for both clubs and "of course, I'm happy to be with the Yankees."

The deal saw Simpson, pitcher Ryne Duren and outfielder Jim Pisoni go to the Yanks, and Kansas City's second baseman Milt Graff go to the Yankees' farm club at Richmond on option. The Yankees farmed Duren and Pisoni to Denver.

Besides Martin, the Yankees gave up outfielder Bob Martyn from Richmond, pitcher Ralph Terry and outfielder Woody Held from Denver.

Dick Mayer Wins U. S. Open

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Handsome Dick Mayer finally made it—winning the U. S. Open golf championship to end what has been for the most part seven years of fairway frustration.

He beat Cary Middlecoff, the defending champion, on the tight, rolling Inverness course Sunday for the title and the $7,200 that goes with it by a whopping seven strokes—one of the most decisive playoff triumphs in golf history.

Playing conservatively, but chipping and putting with accuracy, he shot a two-over-par 35-37—72 against Middlecoff's nine-over-par 38-41—79. It was one of the worst rounds Middlecoff, who was shooting for his third Open title, ever played.

On Saturday, Middlecoff sank a 100-foot birdie putt on the 18th green to tie Mayer at 282. Mayer dropped the same length putt on the same green to come in a stroke ahead of 47-year-old Jimmy Demaret, who thought he had won it all when he finished with 283.

So Sunday, the 34-year-old Mayer and the 36-year-old Middlecoff, went at it head and head for 18 holes for the greatest title in golf.

It was obvious on the first hole that Middlecoff didn't have it. He sliced his drive into the rough, put his second on the back of the apron, chipped to within three feet and then missed the putt for a bogey five.

SUBSTITUTE DOCTOR

© 1957 by Elizabeth Seifert. Distributed by NEA Service. By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

THE STORY: Dr. Garde Shelton has agreed to become a member of the staff of a clinic in Bayard, Mo. He is replacing Dr. Kurt Lillard, who was convicted of murder on circumstantial evidence.

It was the house that had decided him. Garde said so, to himself, and then aloud on that May morning when he and his mother drove up and stopped the car before the tall white house on Missouri Ave., the last one on the block; today the grass had been cut and raked. The trellis sat straight and the birdbath was empty but clean.

"Goodness," gasped Beth Shelton, "do we have all of this house?"

"Yes, as much as we want to use of it."

"Fifteen rooms," she muttered. Then she frowned down at the arched and iron-grilled basement windows. "Rats down there, I'll bet."

"Mother, for heaven's sake..." "Poor Carl," she mourned, "living in that jerry-built house of theirs."

"Now, Mother, it's quite a nice house. And Carl owns it."

"On a G.I. loan."

"Which he is paying off rapidly. Give my brother his due, please!"

It was 11 o'clock when he went in through the clinic front door and told the girl at the desk that he was Dr. Shelton, reporting on duty.

She remembered him. "Oh, yes, doctor. But—well, Miss Evans wants to take you around—she's the Administrator, you know? But she's tied up with a detail man, and she said if you came in for you to go over to your office—do you know where it is?—and she'll get in touch with you as soon as she is free."

"Thank you, Miss Norton."

She smiled, pleased that he remembered her name. "He's kind a nice," she told the records clerk. "Not anywhere near as good-looking as Dr. Kurt was."

"Oh, well, no—but, still, I don't know as I'd like him to be too much like Dr. Kurt!"

"And of course they asked you!"

Garde was to share an office with Dr. Windsor.

The girl behind the desk looked up with a smile of welcome; a half-dozen patients sat in chairs in the common waiting room. A

"these barriers can be dissolved. Even now, racial, national and other barriers that divide mankind are being removed from the New World Society of Jehovah's Witnesses."

"What is the key to this accomplishment?" he asked. "It is the practice of the two greatest commandments—love of God and love of neighbor."

The speaker then pointed out proof of this statement by referring to the world-wide missionary work of Jehovah's Witnesses, which has achieved a remarkable unity in some 162 lands.

At the Saturday afternoon session of this assembly sixteen persons dedicated themselves to carry out God's will by submitting to water baptism.

Eighteen congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses were represented at this assembly from Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

All in attendance were appreciative of the fine co-operation given by the business men and residents of Harrisburg, and hope that their meetings and calling at the homes of the people may have brought comfort to many.

"But," reminded Mr. Anderson,

"What has raised the barriers? Can they be dissolved? What will make mankind one?" asked Mr. Anderson of the 695 persons attending.

Mr. Anderson continued, "Our world is a divided house, a house that is imposing from a distance, but a nightmare of division in reality."

He traced the development of the barriers which now separate earth's peoples racially, religiously and nationally. He pointed to Bible proofs that Satan was the original instigator of these barriers and then methodically showed why men have been unsuccessful in their efforts to remove them.

"But," reminded Mr. Anderson,

child was crying in Dr. Windsor's office.

"Dr. Windsor's going to be glad to see you," she told Dr. Shelton.

Garde nodded and turned away from the office which would be his and knocked lightly on the opposite door, then he turned the knob and went in. The noise of crying increased, now accompanied by a woman's voice saying, "But I do watch her!" and a man's—Windsor's—saying, "Sure Cornel—be up set."

Garde coughed lightly and went on through to the first of the two examination rooms. On the edge of the table sat a very small child, a little girl of two, about, with her lips pouted and her eyes half-concealed in a sullen frown.

"Can I help?" asked Dr. Shelton, slipping off his suit coat, preparing to fold back his cuffs.

"Whoosh!" cried Dr. Windsor. "And how can you help?"

Garde walked around the table, stooped to look into the child's face. She was stripped to ruffled panties, and her small body was patched with round red lesions.

"Allergy?" he asked, turning on the water at the basin.

"Yes," said Dr. Windsor; he introduced the mother to Garde. "He'll take over with Betty now. I imagine. But—yes, doctor, it's an allergy. To about everything in the book. It's all on the record. She goes to a specialist in St. Louis."

Garde asked the name and nodded. "Our immediate problem," Windsor continued, still sounding angry, "has to do with a bit of surgery which was done last week. A hemangioma—Cornel excised it—tissue tests negative—healing was going well. But last night Betty scratched the sutures out and ruined the job."

"I couldn't help it!" protested the mother. "She must have done it while she was asleep. I suppose it itched..."

"And she probably has a behavior pattern of scratching," said Garde quietly, coming up to the table.

"About all we can do now," he said, "would be to let it heal, and then cut out the keloid, hoping for a hairline scar. In a girl..."

"I know it's important for her not to scratch," cried the harried mother. "I tie her hands into mitts, and she had on pajamas close to the neck."

"If you could talk to her and soothe her," suggested Windsor. "I can't sit up with her all night doctor!" Windsor shrugged. Garde nodded. "They make lightweight aluminum guards. Or you could tie on leather mittens..." "A strait jacket, size two," Windsor contributed.

But Garde took him seriously. "You could make her pajamas with double-length sleeves that could fasten behind her." "Doctor, what will these restraints do to her character?" "What will an infected, open sore do to her health?" The mother stared at him. "If you'll make a game of the splints or the mitts—Once we've controlled the allergy, they can be discarded. I'd say to use them, much as we would put a brace on a crippled leg."

New Hurricane Warning Service

MIAMI (AP)—A new long-range hurricane forecasting service starts today.

A vast network of warning stations has been set up across the Bahamas during past years to enable weathermen to predict tropical storms over broad geographic areas.

The 1957 hurricane season opened officially Sunday and weathermen said all is in readiness for the first major tropical tempest to rumble out of the spawning grounds.

It will be named "Audrey."

Two Marion Boys Lead Police in 115-Mile Hour Chase

MARION, Ill. (AP)—Grand larceny charges were on file today against two teen-agers who led police on a 115-mile-an-hour chase in a car they had stolen from the Marion police commissioner.

Police arrested James A. Smith, 16, and Robert D. Greenrod, 18, Saturday night, after they rammed the car into a storm cellar just off Ill. 13 near Carterville. They were found hiding in nearby bushes and were taken to Marion Memorial Hospital for treatment.

State police said the youths took Commissioner Lawrence Corder's car, drove to Alto Pass where they broke into a service station and were spotted as they attempted another break-in at a grocery.

The youths fled in the commissioner's car, police said, and were pursued through Carbondale at speeds up to 115 miles an hour. They crashed through a barricade south of Carbondale, where police took shots at the fleeing auto.

Turning east on Ill. 13 at Carterville, the car went out of control and crashed into the storm cellar.

Englander conceded defeat at about the half-way mark in the balloting Sunday and Botoloff was elected by unanimous voice vote.

Englander claimed the election was a fight between the VFW and the AMA. He said the medical organization wanted to eliminate 17 out of 20 Veterans Administration hospital cases on grounds they were hospitalized for non-service connected disabilities.

The 1,570 delegates also elected Ray Allen, 34, Chicago, as senior vice commander, and Robert L. Hayes, Wilmington, as junior vice commander.
